Family's actions are the cause of the The Prophecy: A waging war against Atlaphena and Earth. Queen Sicilia Atlaphena IV is sitting on her throne, in tears as the war goes on around her. The camera zooms up to her face and you can see the war reflecting in her eyes (tears) as it glows a brighter glacier blue. She knows she has to sacrifice the throne and its power before Earth's warriors breaches the door and gain control. As soon as she transmits a warning message to the other realms, the throne is struck by a powerful thunder bolt.

Ra was a Prince to the Houstylus realm. Due to his crimes, he was sent to Earth as punishment, but not before sneaking out a portal. Because Earth's citizens didn't know of his origin, he made himself into a god of Egypt. Ra entrusted his secrets with a few members of his court. Thousands of years later, a descendent of Ra (Raheem) discovers his relic, and the portal's location is shared after Raheem's blood gets on the relic and he tries to wipe it off.

SERIES > SEASON ONE TALE

A camera drones (through the eyes of a raven) over Atlaphena, following the whispers of a witch from a different galaxy. Jazeleen kneels before King Otis Atlaphena I, about to be executed, with her eyes closed whispering, "Jericho, Jericho, walls fall down like Jericho". She chants a spell over the castle - marking it for captivity and death after the King slaughtered her village and took her captive. Music intensifies as the camera moves closer to her face. She opens her eyes wide, takes a deep breath and exhales. As soon as she does, she's decapitated, but not before her soul was able to leave her body. Her breath's shadow roams the halls. As the shadow makes it way towards the King's chamber, the scene cuts back and forth to showing quick clips of the prophecy. The witch's breath enters the womb of Queen Sicillia Atlaphena I's belly - cursing the 4th bloodline's reign.

NOTE (revealed later on): Queen Sicillia Atlaphena I sought protection from Cardemius (Witch of the purest power), in secret, over her baby the moment she found out she was pregnant. Witches are recruited by the spirits of the Purest and Darkest Power (creator of the universe) - they created Queen Mother, but Queen Mother can't see "duties done in service" of the Powers if performed in secrecy, or on another planet.

The Prophecy: Refer to HOUSE OF ATLAPHENA'S CARD

The scene transitions to the prophecy being recaptured as Queen Sicilia Atlaphena IV's nightmare on the day she becomes of age to rule. The witch's breath roams to her chamber, multiple horror whisper sounds chanting the spell as it gives her the nightmares, the prophecy. She abruptly awakes in fear, her eyes glowing a glacier blue as it activates thunder and lightning strikes being carried in dark clouds outside. Eysis, senses the disturbance coming from the Queen's chamber and transports to her bedside. Her presence forces the witch's shadow to retrieve, which makes the Queen come out of her nightmare.

NOTE (revealed later on): Eysis has been House of Atlaphena's Wizard since the creation of Atlaphena. She doesn't age, and should she die, Atlaphena's power, much like the other realms, is vulnerable for the taking.

Queen Mother (Nubian's Eye) sees the commotion in Atlaphena and sends Teatius to her daughter, Eysis. She, too, feels a shift in energy, aware of the prophecy to happen any day now. Every time Queen Sicilia Atlaphena IV has a nightmare about the prophecy, a new vision is shared that only she sees. It is blocked from Queen Mother and Teatius. Queen Sicilia Atlaphena IV stares at Teatius and Eysis in fear and says, "It's here."

NOTE (revealed later on): Teatius has the ability to recapture dreams and thoughts with just a touch and share them with multiple minds simultaneously. Should he be captured, and his memories are accessed, his capturer can see every memory and hear every thought Teatius has had since his creation.

The scene cuts and transitions to the series' intro trailer.

SERIES > SEASON ONE TALE

End of Intro. We are on Earth, with military forces transporting a scientist and archeologists. They are on an off-book mission to find a secret ancient portal that was mentioned in diaries discovered in an ancient tomb in Egypt under a pyramid. The Egyptian god, Ra, is mentioned having brought a transport portal - hiding it within the depths of Earth. Unknown to the scientist and archeologist, the government wishes to control the portal and any resources found on the other side. Some of the soldiers question the validity of the mission - stealing from a planet they have no relationship or treaty with, nor know anything about the environment once they cross to the other side. They realize that they could possibly die because their government won't mind their business. One of the soldiers, Raheem, stumbles across a relic, which purposely cuts him. He tries to wipe it off, but his DNA activates the relic, which tells him the coordinates of the portal.

Ra's Significance: Refer to HOUSE OF HOUSTYLUS'S CARD

Raheem thinks he's alone when the coordinates appear and gives him a vision, but unfortunately, his Captain was behind him. As they journey to the location, the Captain becomes curious of Raheem's connection to Ra. Raheem is also having flashbacks from another life not of his own. The closer they get to the portal, the more Raheem thirst of blood and his senses are heightened. He spends his next few hours talking to the scientists and archeologists, learning as much as he can. As they speak about Prince Ra, the scene cuts to a flashback to the beginning of Prince Ra's demise.

SERIES > SEASON ONE TALE

We are lurking in a saloon with vampire sex workers performing in a high-induced party. Prince Ra is sitting in this grand living area, on his thrown, as the party goes on around him. He senses he's being watched by someone, so he stops the party and everything and everyone goes silent. He tells the lurker that he knows she's there and to come out. The lurker does not. Prince Ra's gives a flirtatious threat and resumes the party. Prince Ra leaves the saloon and follows the lurker.

Scene cuts to King Thaddius Houstylus I and Queen MaryJe Houstylus I in the middle of discussing new treatments for a disease that's quickly spreading amongst the realms. Countess Vyeb enters the room announcing that their son, Prince Ra Houstylus I, has been operating a secret saloon of sex workers carrying a disease marked by him, spreading to all who are in contact. Confused as to how that could be because the portals are closely watched on who comes and goes, Prince Ra appears from the shadows advising he created another secret portal. He makes eye contact with Countess Vyeb confirming his flirtatious threat from earlier and then smiles at her. Countess Vyeb suddenly doesn't feel well and excuses herself from the room. The Queen notices and asks her if she's alright. Countess Vyeb stumbles and falls to the floor - dying immediately. Prince Ra smiles, and with an evil/sinful tone, he says, "well, that's just.....unfortunate, isn't it?".

The King and Queen host a public sentencing of Prince Ra for all realms to attend. Little did anyone know, Prince Ra made two secret portals. The one that was destroyed right before his sentencing, and the ring that he never takes off. Prince Ra is sent to Earth via the realm's portal, with his powers, never to return again. As soon as Prince Ra leaves, the disease leaves with him.

The camera follows Prince Ra's prison pod shoot to Earth. When he lands, he's greeted by the people in the village. This is how Prince Ra Houstylus I becomes the ancient Egyptian god, Ra.
